- Method of preparation: Take sun-dried powdered form of each herb used for decoction. Boil these for making Kwath (Decoction) in a suitable quantity of water until 1/4th of liquid remains in vessel. Filter decoction and keep it aside. Take herbs required for making Kalka (Herbal paste) and make a paste of it using water. Mix this paste along with goat's milk and decoction kept aside in vessel. Again, boil this mixture until water part evaporates and only oil remains behind. Prepare a tincture of saffron and rose water. Mix this with oil. Cool it down and preserve it in a glass bottle.
